

Consumer Arbitration Agreements (2006 Supplement)

Contents

CD-Rom Contents. . . . . xvii

Chapter 1

Preliminary Issues

new section
new section

1.1 Scope of This Manual. . . . . 1
1.3 Why Many Consumers Try to Avoid Pre-Dispute Binding Arbitration . . . . . 1
    1.3.1 Introduction . . . . . 1
    1.3.2 Limitations on Class Actions . . . . . 1
    1.3.4 Secrecy in Arbitration. . . . . 1
1.4 Corporations Avoid Binding Arbitration When It Applies to Them. . . . . 2
1.5 Serious Flaws with Studies Allegedly Showing Benefits of Consumer Arbitration. . . . . 2

Chapter 2

The Federal Arbitration Act and State Arbitration Law

new subsection

2.1 The FAA Embodies a Policy Favoring the Enforceability of Arbitration Clauses . . . 5
    2.1.1 General . . . . . 5
2.2 FAA Preemption of State Law . . . . . 5
    2.2.1 FAA Preemption of State Laws That Limit the Enforceability of Arbitration Clauses. . . . . 5
        2.2.1.1 Introduction . . . . . 5
        2.2.1.2 When State Law Singles Out Arbitration Clauses for Less Favored Treatment . . . . . 5
        2.2.1.3 When State Law Not Explicitly Targeting Arbitration Effectively Prohibits Arbitration . . . . . 6
        2.2.1.4 No FAA Preemption When Arbitration Inconsistent with Effective Vindication of State Law Rights . . . . . 6
    2.2.2 Limited FAA Preemption of State Procedural Law . . . . . 7
        2.2.2.3 FAA Procedural Provisions, by Their Own Language, Apply Only to Federal Court Actions . . . . . 7
        2.2.2.4 State Law, Not the FAA, Governs Motions to Vacate and Confirm in State Court . . . . . 7
    2.2.3 FAA Preemption and Substantive State Laws Not Aimed at Restricting Arbitration . . . . . 8
        2.2.3.2 Whether Federal or State Law Applies to Questions of Contract Formation, Validity, and Enforceability . . . . . 8
        2.2.3.3 Whether the FAA Preempts State Consumer Protection Laws That Do Not Target Arbitration Clauses . . . . . 8
    2.2.4 FAA Preemption and State Laws Regulating the Conduct Of Private Arbitrators and Arbitration Services . . . . . 9
2.3 The Applicability of the FAA Is Limited . . . . . 9
    2.3.1 The FAA Only Applies to Transactions Involving Interstate Commerce . . . . 9
    2.3.2 If the FAA Does Not Apply, Some States Place Limits upon Arbitration Clauses. . . . . 9
    2.3.3 Exception for State Regulation of the Business of Insurance. . . . . 9
        2.3.3.1 General . . . . . 9

- 2.3.3.2 Is a State Law One Enacted for the Purpose of Regulating Insurance? . . . . . 9
- 2.3.3.3 Does State Insurance Law Restrict the Enforceability of Arbitration Agreements? . . . . . 10
- 2.4 Courts Determine an Arbitration Clause’s Enforceability Under State Contract Law Principles . . . . . 10
  - 2.4.3 State Law Determines Whether a Contract Defense Bars Arbitration Clause’s Enforceability . . . . . 10
  - 2.4.4 Agreement to Arbitrate “Arbitrability Disputes” Does Not Displace Right Under FAA to Judicial Determination As to Existence and Enforceability of Arbitration Clause . . . . . 10

Chapter 3

Formation of Agreement to Arbitrate

- 3.1 No Presumption That Arbitration Agreement Is Formed . . . . . 11
- 3.2 Language of Arbitration Clause Must Be Unambiguous and Unequivocal . . . . . 11
- 3.3 Is the Agreement Illusory? . . . . . 12
- 3.4 Lack of Assent to the Arbitration Agreement . . . . . 13
  - 3.4.1 Assent in General. . . . . 13
    - 3.4.1.1 Introduction . . . . . 13
    - 3.4.1.2 Express Assent by Signature . . . . . 13
    - 3.4.1.3 Implied Assent Based on Conduct or Reliance . . . . . 14
  - 3.4.2 Electronic Assent . . . . . 15
- 3.5 The Voluntary, Knowing, and Intelligent Doctrine . . . . . 16
  - 3.5.1 General. . . . . 16
  - 3.5.2 Doctrine and FAA Preemption . . . . . 16
  - 3.5.3 Examples of Application of the Doctrine . . . . . 16
  - 3.5.4 Application of Doctrine to Waiver of Statutory Rights . . . . . 17
  - 3.5.5 Cases Rejecting the Doctrine . . . . . 17
- 3.6 When Document Containing Arbitration Clause Is Superseded by Later Document . . . . . 17
- 3.7 Arbitration Clauses Sent Unilaterally After Agreement Reached. . . . . 17
  - 3.7.2 Unilateral Change in Terms After Agreement Is Consummated . . . . . 17
  - 3.7.3 When Final Agreement Not Reached Until After Purchase Is Delivered . . . . . 18
- 3.8 Changes in Terms: Amendments to Existing Contracts Through Bill Stuffers . . . . . 18
  - 3.8.1 Introduction. . . . . 18
  - 3.8.2 Does the Original Agreement Allow for an Arbitration Requirement As a Change in Terms? . . . . . 18
    - 3.8.2.1 Court Precedent. . . . . 18
    - 3.8.2.3 The Delaware Legislation . . . . . 19
  - 3.8.4 Did the Company Reasonably Inform the Consumer of the Change in Terms? . . . . . 19
  - 3.8.5 Has the Consumer Indicated Assent to the Change in Terms? . . . . . 19
    - 3.8.5.1 Has the Consumer Continued to Use the Service? . . . . . 19
    - 3.8.5.2 Is Use of the Card or Service Sufficient to Show Assent? . . . . . 20

Chapter 4

Contract Law Defenses to Arbitration Clauses

- 4.1 Introduction . . . . . 21
- 4.2 Unconscionable Arbitration Clauses Will Not Be Enforced . . . . . 21
  - 4.2.1 Introduction. . . . . 21
  - 4.2.2 General Unconscionability Standards. . . . . 22
  - 4.2.3 Procedural Unconscionability . . . . . 22
    - 4.2.3.1 When Procedural Unconscionability Alone Voids Arbitration Clause . . . . . 22
    - 4.2.3.3 Standard Form Consumer Contract As a Procedural Factor . . . . . 22
    - 4.2.3.4 Surprise As a Factor in Procedural Unconscionability . . . . . 24
    - 4.2.3.5 Consumer’s Ability to Read English. . . . . 26

4.2.3.6	Meaningful Choice . . . . .	26
4.3	Arbitration Provisions Found Substantively Unconscionable . . . . .	27
4.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	27
4.3.2	Excessive Fees and Costs . . . . .	27
4.3.2.1	Demonstrating That the Arbitration Fees Will, in Fact, Be Excessive . . . . .	27
4.3.2.2	AAA Fees for Consumer Cases . . . . .	27
4.3.2.3	NAF Fees for Consumer Cases . . . . .	28
4.3.2.5	Precedent Dealing with Unconscionable Arbitration Fees . . . . .	28
4.3.3	One-Way or Non-Mutual Arbitration Clauses Are Often Unconscionable . . . . .	28
4.3.3.2	Non-Mutuality Rendering Clause Unconscionable Distinguished from Non-Mutuality Creating Lack of Consideration for Agreement . . . . .	28
4.3.3.3	Cases Finding Non-Mutuality to Be Unconscionable . . . . .	28
4.3.3.4	Cases Not Finding Non-Mutuality to Be Unconscionable . . . . .	29
4.3.4	Bias of Arbitrator or Arbitration Mechanism . . . . .	29
4.3.4.1	General . . . . .	29
4.3.4.3	Defenses to Bias Allegations . . . . .	30
4.3.5	Inconvenient Venue for Arbitration . . . . .	30
4.3.6	Waiver of Statutory Remedies . . . . .	30
4.3.6.1	Limitation on Damages . . . . .	30
4.3.6.2	Limitation on Attorney Fees . . . . .	30
4.3.6.4	Shortened Statute of Limitations . . . . .	31
4.3.7	Waiver of Right to Bring Class Action . . . . .	31
4.3.8	Loser Pays Rules . . . . .	34
4.4	When One Aspect of Arbitration Clause Is Unconscionable, Is the Entire Clause Unenforceable? . . . . .	35
4.4.2	Party That Drafted Unconscionable Clause Should Not Receive Court's Assistance . . . . .	35
4.4.3	Interdependent Aspects of Arbitration Clause Should Not Be Severed . . . . .	36
4.5	When the Contract Is Void . . . . .	36
4.5.1	Introduction . . . . .	36
4.5.2	Forged Signatures and Fraud in the Factum . . . . .	36
4.5.3	Three-Day Rights to Cancel or Rescind . . . . .	36
4.5.4	"Yo-Yo" Sales and Other Condition Precedent Contracts . . . . .	37
4.5.5	Unlicensed or Criminal Activity . . . . .	37
4.5.6	Usurious Contracts: The Void Versus Voidable Distinction . . . . .	37
4.7	Lack of Mutuality As a Contract Defense . . . . .	37
4.8	Incapacity, Impossibility, Undue Influence, Breach of Covenant of Good Faith, and Other Common Law Contract Defenses . . . . .	38

replacement subsection

Chapter 5

When the FAA's Enforcement of Arbitration Clause Conflicts with Another Federal Statute

5.2	FAA's Per Se Inconsistency with Specified Federal Statutes . . . . .	39
5.2.1	Standard for Determining Whether a Federal Statute Prohibits or Restricts Use of Arbitration . . . . .	39
5.2.1.2	Does Arbitration Allow Vindication of Statute's Purpose? . . . . .	39
5.2.1.3	Specific Examples . . . . .	39
5.2.2	The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act . . . . .	40
5.2.2.5	Case Law Relating to Arbitration and the Act . . . . .	40
5.2.2.5.2	Case law finding binding arbitration permissible under Magnuson-Moss, and a critique of this holding . . . . .	40
5.2.2.7	The Act Prevents Use of Arbitration Agreements in Only Certain Consumer Transactions . . . . .	40
5.2.2.8	Binding Arbitration Clauses, When Permitted, Must Still Comply with the Act's Provisions Concerning Disclosures and Tie-Ins . . . . .	40

5.2.2.8.2	Arbitration requirement must be disclosed in written warranties . . . . .	40
5.2.3	Claims Asserted in Bankruptcy . . . . .	41
5.2.3.2	Conflict Between Bankruptcy Code and FAA . . . . .	41
5.2.3.3	Zimmerman , the 1984 Amendments, and Subsequent Case Law . . . . .	41
5.2.3.4	Court Need Not Require Arbitration of Core Matters . . . . .	41
5.2.3.5	Application to Consumer Cases . . . . .	42
5.2.3.6	Non-Core Matters Subject to Arbitration . . . . .	43
5.2.3.7	Confirmed Plan Can Bar Enforcement of Arbitration Clause . . . . .	44
5.3	Arbitration Clauses That Explicitly Limit Consumers' Statutory Rights . . . . .	44
5.3.1	General Principles . . . . .	44
5.3.1.1	Arbitration Clause Can Not Limit Federal Statutory Right . . . . .	44
5.3.2	Limitations on Specific Statutory Rights . . . . .	44
5.3.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	44
5.3.2.2	Arbitration Clauses That Limit Statutory Right to Attorney Fees and Costs . . . . .	44
5.3.2.3	When Arbitration, But Not Statute, Applies Loser Pays Rule . . . . .	45
5.3.2.4	Limits on Statutory Right to Punitive Damages . . . . .	45
5.3.2.5	Limits on Statutory Right to Proceed As a Class . . . . .	45
5.3.2.7	Shortening of a Statute of Limitation . . . . .	46
5.4	High Arbitration Fees Effectively Prevent Vindication of Statutory Rights . . . . .	46
5.4.2	The Supreme Court's Decision in Randolph . . . . .	46
5.4.3	When Are Arbitration Charges Inconsistent with Federal Statute? . . . . .	47
5.4.3.1	When Charges Exceed Those for a Court Action . . . . .	47
5.4.3.2	When Charges Deter Pursuit of Statutory Claims . . . . .	47
5.4.4	Does Reimbursement of Fees to a Prevailing Consumer Cure the Problem? . . . . .	47
5.5	A Party's One-Sided Control over the Arbitration Process Prevents Effective Vindication of Statutory Rights . . . . .	47

Chapter 6

Arbitration Clause's Applicability to Particular Claim, Plaintiff, and Defendant

6.1	General Standards of Interpretation . . . . .	49
6.1.1	The Language of the Arbitration Clause Is Determinative . . . . .	49
6.1.2	Who Interprets the Agreement—Court or Arbitrator? . . . . .	49
6.1.3	Interpreting Ambiguous Language . . . . .	49
6.2	Reach of Specific Scope Language . . . . .	50
6.2.1	General . . . . .	50
6.2.2	Application to Tort Claims . . . . .	52
6.2.3	Arbitration Clause Does Not Apply to Consumer's Self-Help Remedies . . . . .	53
6.2.4	Applying an Arbitration Clause to Earlier or Later Agreements . . . . .	53
6.2.5	When Some Claims Are Within the Arbitration Clause's Scope and Some Are Not . . . . .	54
6.3	Can Non-Signatories Enforce the Arbitration Clause? . . . . .	54
6.3.1	General . . . . .	54
6.3.2	Equitable Estoppel . . . . .	55
6.3.3	Third-Party Beneficiaries . . . . .	56
6.3.4	Agency and Assignment . . . . .	57
6.3.5	Treatment of Common Third-Party Relationships . . . . .	58
6.4	Who Is Bound by an Arbitration Agreement? . . . . .	58
6.4.1	Non-Signatory Consumers . . . . .	58
6.4.2	Affinity Group Members . . . . .	61
6.4.3	Enforcement Agencies and Contempt Proceedings . . . . .	61
6.5	Can the Terms of the Arbitration Clause Be Satisfied? . . . . .	61

new section

Chapter 7	Waiver of Right to Compel Arbitration
	7.1 Introduction . . . . .	63
	7.2 Waiver When Creditor Files Suit Against Consumer. . . . .	63
	7.3 Waiver by Delay in Enforcing the Arbitration Provision . . . . .	64
	7.3.1 General. . . . .	64
	7.3.2 Actions Indicating Waiver . . . . .	65
	7.3.3 Actions Found Not to Constitute Waiver . . . . .	67
	7.3.4 Court Determines Whether There Is a Waiver. . . . .	68
new subsection	7.3.5 Companies Can Not Skirt Waiver Doctrines by Inserting “No Waiver” Clauses into Their Arbitration Agreements . . . . .	70
	7.4 Breach of Arbitration Clause’s Provisions As Waiver . . . . .	70
	7.4.1 Overview . . . . .	70
Chapter 8	Constitutional Challenges to Mandatory Arbitration Clauses
	8.1 Right to Jury Trial . . . . .	71
	8.1.1 When Private Parties Agree to Waive the Right . . . . .	71
	8.1.2 When State Requires Waiver of Right . . . . .	71
	8.3 Improper Delegation of Power . . . . .	71
Chapter 9	Selected Procedural Issues
	9.1 Right to Discovery Relating to Enforceability of Arbitration Clause . . . . .	73
	9.1.2 Precedent Upholding Right to Discovery . . . . .	73
	9.2 Right for Jury to Decide If Arbitration Agreement Is Enforceable . . . . .	73
	9.3 Jurisdictional Issues. . . . .	73
	9.3.1 Removal of Court Determination of Arbitration Clause Enforceability to Federal Court. . . . .	73
	9.3.1.1 FAA Not Independent Basis for Federal Jurisdiction . . . . .	73
	9.3.1.2 Diversity Jurisdiction over Claims Subject to Arbitration. . . . .	74
	9.3.2 Parallel Proceedings in State and Federal Courts . . . . .	74
new subsection	9.3.3 Venue . . . . .	75
	9.4 Arbitration of Claims on a Class-Wide Basis. . . . .	76
	9.4.1 Introduction. . . . .	76
	9.4.2 The Supreme Court’s Ruling in Green Tree Financial Corp. v. Bazzle . . . . .	76
	9.4.2.2 The Facts and Holding of Bazzle . . . . .	76
	9.4.2.3 Bazzle ’s Likely Implications for Consumers. . . . .	76
	9.4.2.4 Cases Following Bazzle ’s Holding . . . . .	76
	9.4.3 Critique of Pre- Bazzle Cases Holding That the FAA Presumptively Prohibits Arbitration of Class Claims . . . . .	77
	9.4.3.3 Seventh Circuit Precedent Also Undermined Champ . . . . .	77
	9.4.4 State Court Approaches to Arbitration of Class Claims . . . . .	77
	9.4.4.3 State Cases Allowing Arbitration of Class Claims . . . . .	77
	9.4.5 When Arbitration Clause Expressly Prohibits Class Claims in Arbitration or Court . . . . .	77
	9.5 Appeal from Judicial Orders Relating to Arbitration. . . . .	77
	9.5.1 FAA Section 16. . . . .	77
	9.5.2 Supreme Court Finds Order Requiring Arbitration Can Be Appealed . . . . .	78
	9.5.2.1 Dismissal with Prejudice. . . . .	78
	9.5.2.2 Dismissal Without Prejudice . . . . .	79
	9.5.4 Broader Appealability of State Court Arbitration Orders. . . . .	79
	9.6 Protecting the Arbitrator’s Punitive Damages Award. . . . .	79
	9.6.1 Introduction. . . . .	79
	9.6.2 Procedural Issues . . . . .	80
	9.6.3 Challenges to Arbitrator’s Authority to Issue Punitive Damages. . . . .	80
	9.6.3.1 Introduction . . . . .	80
	9.6.3.2 Does the Arbitration Agreement Limit the Arbitrator’s Authority?. . . . .	80

9.6.3.3 Do the Rules of the Arbitration Service Provider Limit Punitive Damages? . . . . .	81
9.6.3.4 Does the FAA or State Law Effectively Limit Punitive Damages? . . . . .	81
9.6.4 Arguments that Arbitrator Has Disregarded Law and Facts; Violated Public Policy . . . . .	83
9.6.5 Due Process Challenges to Punitive Damages Award . . . . .	83

Chapter 10

Judicial Review of the Arbitration Award

10.1 Introduction . . . . .	85
10.2 Procedure to Confirm, Vacate, or Modify an Award . . . . .	85
10.2.1 State Versus Federal Court . . . . .	85
10.2.3 Can the Parties, by Contract, Alter the Nature of Judicial Review? . . . . .	85
10.2.3.1 Contract Can Not Limit Court’s Power to Vacate or Modify an Award . . . . .	85
10.2.3.2 Arbitration Agreements That Increase the Scope of Judicial Review . . . . .	86
10.2.4 Strict Timing Requirements . . . . .	86
10.2.4.1 Short Period to Vacate or Modify an Award . . . . .	86
10.2.5 Venue . . . . .	87
replacement section 10.3 Grounds to Confirm—or to Refuse to Confirm—an Award . . . . .	87
10.4 Explicit Statutory Grounds to Vacate or Modify an Award . . . . .	88
10.4.1 General . . . . .	88
10.4.2 Award Procured by Corruption, Fraud, or Undue Means . . . . .	88
10.4.3 Evident Partiality or Corruption in the Arbitrators . . . . .	89
10.4.3.1 General . . . . .	89
10.4.3.3 California Statutes Requiring Disclosures by Arbitrators . . . . .	89
10.4.4 Arbitrator’s Refusal to Postpone the Hearing or to Hear Evidence or Other Misbehavior . . . . .	90
replacement subsection 10.4.5 When Arbitrators Exceed Their Powers . . . . .	90
new subsection 10.4.6 When There Is No Agreement to Arbitrate . . . . .	91
10.5 Vacating an Award Based on Its Merits . . . . .	92
10.5.1 Introduction . . . . .	92
10.5.2 Court Must Ensure Arbitration Decision Is Consistent with Public Policy . . . . .	92
10.5.4 Manifest Disregard of the Law . . . . .	92
10.5.4.1 General . . . . .	92
10.5.4.2 Consumer Bears Burden of Showing That Arbitrator Was Aware of Legal Standard . . . . .	93
10.5.4.3 Can the Court Re-Examine Evidence? . . . . .	94
10.5.4.4 When Arbitrator Does Not Explain the Decision . . . . .	94
10.5.5 Arbitrary and Capricious Awards . . . . .	94
new section 10.6 Other Grounds for Vacating or Refusing to Confirm Awards . . . . .	94
10.7 Arbitral Immunity . . . . .	94
10.8 Arbitration and Issue or Claim Preclusion . . . . .	95
10.8.1 Introduction . . . . .	95
10.8.2 Arbitration’s Preclusive Effect on Subsequent Court Proceeding . . . . .	95
10.8.3 Preclusive Effect of Arbitration or Court Ruling on Subsequent Arbitration . . . . .	96

Chapter 11

Creditor’s Use of Arbitration to Collect Consumer Debts

11.1 How Collection Via Arbitration Works . . . . .	99
11.2 Threats Related to Collection Via Arbitration . . . . .	100
11.2.1 Deceptive Threats . . . . .	100
11.2.2 Litigating the Consumer’s Claims Related to Deceptive Threats . . . . .	100
11.3 Objecting in Court to the Collector’s Arbitration Proceeding . . . . .	101
11.4 Participating in the Arbitration Proceeding . . . . .	101
11.4.1 Introduction . . . . .	101

Contents / 2006 Supplement

11.4.2	Essential First Steps to Any Participation . . . . .	102
11.4.3	Costs and Risks to the Consumer of Different Forms of Participation . . .	102
11.4.3.1	General. . . . .	102
11.4.3.2	The Costs to Consumers of NAF Collection Arbitration. . . . .	103
11.4.3.3	Can the Consumer Avoid Most Costs Under the MBNA Clause?. . . . .	103
11.4.4	The Procedures for Participation . . . . .	104
11.5	The Consumer's Action to Vacate the Award . . . . .	104
11.5.2	When to Challenge the Award. . . . .	104
11.5.3	Effect of Consumer's Non-Participation (or Participation) in Arbitration As to Right to Vacate the Award . . . . .	104
11.5.4	Jurisdiction and Venue . . . . .	105
11.5.5	Grounds to Vacate an Award. . . . .	105
11.5.5.1	Introduction. . . . .	105
11.5.5.2	Arbitration Agreement Is Not Binding. . . . .	105
11.5.5.3	Lack of Notice; Lack of a Hearing . . . . .	105
11.5.5.4	Failure to Follow the Arbitration Agreement or Arbitration Service Provider Rules . . . . .	106
11.5.5.5	Arbitrator Bias. . . . .	106
11.5.5.6	Inconvenient Venue . . . . .	106
11.5.5.7	Arbitrator Improperly Selected . . . . .	107
11.5.5.8	When Arbitration Award Is Contrary to the Law or Facts. . . . .	107
11.6	Challenging Confirmation of the Award . . . . .	107
11.6.1	Introduction . . . . .	107
11.6.2	The Confirmation Process. . . . .	108
11.6.3	Raising Grounds to Vacate an Award in the Confirmation Proceeding . . . . .	108
11.6.4	Time Period to Vacate Does Not Start Running When Notice of Award Is Defective . . . . .	109
11.6.5	Does the Time Limit Apply to Challenges to the Enforceability of the Arbitration Agreement? . . . . .	110
11.6.6	Can an Uncontested Arbitration Be Confirmed? . . . . .	111
11.6.7	Did the Creditor Wait Too Long to Confirm the Award? . . . . .	111
11.6.8	Did the Creditor Bring the Procedure in the Wrong Court? . . . . .	112
11.6.9	Other Conditions on Creditor Seeking Confirmation . . . . .	112
11.6.10	What If a Default Has Already Been Entered in the Confirmation Proceeding? . . . . .	113
11.7	Broad-Based, Affirmative Challenge to the Creditor's Use of Arbitration to Collect Debts . . . . .	113
11.7.1	Nature of an Unconscionability Challenge. . . . .	113
11.7.2	Unconscionability Based on Repeat Player Bias. . . . .	114
11.7.2.1	The Legal Basis for the Challenge . . . . .	114
11.7.2.2	The Nature of Repeat Player Bias. . . . .	115
11.7.3	Unconscionability Based on Cost. . . . .	116
11.7.4	Unconscionability Based on Consumer Confusion . . . . .	116
11.7.5	Government Enforcement Action Against Collection Via Arbitration. . . . .	117
Appendix A	The Federal Arbitration Act . . . . .	119
Appendix B	Arbitration Service Provider Rules
B.1	The American Arbitration Association . . . . .	121
B.1.1	Commercial Arbitration Rules and Mediation Procedures (Including Procedures for Large, Complex Commercial Disputes). . . . .	121
B.1.2	Supplementary Procedures for Consumer-Related Disputes. . . . .	121
B.1.3	Supplementary Rules for Class Arbitrations . . . . .	122
B.1.4	Disclosures for California Consumer Cases . . . . .	122
B.1.5	Consumer Due Process Protocol. . . . .	123
replacement section	B.2 The National Arbitration Forum Code of Procedure. . . . .	123

	B.3 JAMS . . . . .	141
	B.3.1 Streamlined Arbitration Rules and Procedures . . . . .	141
	B.3.2 Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures . . . . .	144
	B.3.3 Policy on Consumer Arbitrations Pursuant to Pre-Dispute Clauses. . . . .	147
	B.3.3.1 Minimum Standards of Procedural Fairness. . . . .	147
Appendix D	Sample Discovery . . . . .	149
new section	D.7 Discovery Directed to Payday Lender . . . . .	149
	D.7.1 First Set of Interrogatories and Document Requests. . . . .	149
	D.7.2 Second Set of Interrogatories and Document Requests . . . . .	151
Appendix E	Briefs on Arbitration Costs, Damage Limitations, and Unconscionability
replacement section	E.1 Opening Brief Focusing on Unconscionability Based on Cost (Leeman). . . . .	155
replacement section	E.2 Reply Brief Focusing on Unconscionability Based on Cost (Leeman). . . . .	155
new section	E.3 Brief Focusing on Unconscionability Based on Limitation of Remedies and Cost (Sanderson Farms) . . . . .	155
	E.4 Brief Focusing on Unconscionability Based on Lack of Mutuality, Limitation of Rights, and Cost (Scovill) . . . . .	174
Appendix F	Briefs on Unconscionability of Arbitration Clauses Restricting Class Actions
replacement appendix	F.1 Plaintiff’s Brief in Washington Court of Appeals (Scott v. Cingular). . . . .	189
	F.2 Plaintiff’s Reply Brief in Washington Court of Appeals (Scott v. Cingular) . . . . .	202
	F.3 Plaintiff’s Supplemental Brief in Washington Supreme Court (Scott v. Cingular) . . . . .	208
	F.4 Plaintiff’s Response to Industry Amicus Brief in Washington Supreme Court (Scott v. Cingular) . . . . .	214
Appendix H	Briefs on Arbitration Service Provider Bias. . . . .	221
new section	H.1 Brief Alleging NAF Bias (McQuillan). . . . .	221
new heading	H.2 Brief Alleging NAF Bias (Toppings) . . . . .	244
Appendix I	AAA and NAF Documents, Additional Briefs, Other Resources Found Only on the CD-Rom
	I.2 American Arbitration Association Materials. . . . .	245
	I.3 National Arbitration Forum Materials . . . . .	245
	I.4 Reprints of Arbitration Agreements . . . . .	246
	I.6 Pleadings . . . . .	246
	I.7 Materials Regarding Impact on Consumers of Arbitration Requirement . . . . .	247
Appendix J	Brief Opposing Confirmation of Collector’s Arbitration Award. . . . .	249
Appendix K	Brief Requesting Discovery As to Arbitrability. . . . .	261
	Index. . . . .	267
	Quick Reference to Consumer Credit and Sales Legal Practice Series. . . . .	279
	About the Companion CD-Rom . . . . .	291