

About the Authors

Elizabeth Renuart is an NCLC staff attorney focusing on predatory lending, consumer credit, Truth in Lending, and home ownership issues. She is author of Stop Predatory Lending (2002), co-author of the prior edition of this volume and of Cost of Credit (2d ed. 2000), and is the editor of NCLC REPORTS, Consumer Credit & Usury Edition. Prior to joining NCLC, she was the managing attorney of a legal services office in Baltimore, Maryland, where she litigated cases involving mortgage lending, Truth in Lending, usury, deceptive practices, and fraud. She has been a legal services attorney for over twenty-five years.

Kathleen Keest, presently with the Iowa Attorney General's Office, was an NCLC staff attorney from 1985 to 1996 focusing on Truth in Lending, usury, and other credit laws. Before that she was an attorney specializing in consumer law with the Legal Services Corporation of Iowa. She is the author of Cost of Credit (1995), co-author of Truth in Lending (1989, 1995) and Usury and Consumer Credit Regulation (1987). She is a past chair of the American Bar Association's Financial Services Committee and a former member of the Federal Reserve Board Consumer Advisory Council. She is the 1999 recipient of the Vern Countryman Consumer Award.

Carolyn Carter is of counsel at NCLC, and was formerly co-director of Legal Services, Inc., in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania and director of the Law Reform Office of Cleveland Legal Aid Society. She is the editor of Pennsylvania Consumer Law and Ohio Consumer Law, co-author of Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices (1997, 2001), Consumer Warranty Law (1997, 2001), Repossessions and Foreclosures (5th ed. 2002), and Automobile Fraud (2003), and contributing author to Truth in Lending (4th ed. 1999) and Cost of Credit (2d ed. 2000), and the 1992 recipient of the Vern Countryman Consumer Law Award.

Chi Chi Wu is an NCLC staff attorney focusing on credit discrimination and consumer credit law, with an emphasis on consumer issues affecting domestic violence victims and immigrants. She is the co-author of Credit Discrimination (3d ed. 2002) and contributing author to Fair Credit Reporting (5th ed. 2002) and the most recent supplements to Truth in Lending and to Cost of Credit. She was formerly an Assistant Attorney General with the Consumer Protection Division of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, and an attorney with the Asian Outreach Unit of Greater Boston Legal Services.

Alys I. Cohen is a staff attorney at NCLC's Washington office, where she works on predatory lending and other consumer credit issues. She is a contributing author to the 2003 Supplement to Cost of Credit. Formerly, she was an attorney in the Federal Trade Commission's Bureau of Consumer Protection, Division of Financial Practices, where she was involved in credit discrimination and predatory lending issues.

Jonathan Sheldon has been an NCLC staff attorney working in the areas of leasing, automobile fraud, deceptive practices law and other consumer law topics since 1976. His publications include Automobile Fraud (1998, 2003), Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices (1982, 1988, 1991, 1997, 2001), and Repossessions and Foreclosures (1982, 1988, 1995, 1999), and he was a contributing author to the prior edition of this volume.

Acknowledgments: We are particularly grateful to Denise Lisio for editorial supervision; Emilio Englade for editorial assistance; Shirlron Williams for assistance with cite checking; Shannon Halbrook for production assistance; Xylutions for typesetting services; Mary Mclean for indexing; and Neil Fogarty of Law Disks for developing the CD-Rom. Special thanks to Mark Leymaster of Renaissance Software for his generosity in continually improving and expanding the NCLC APR Program found on the CD-Rom. Thanks also to Bill Redak of Custom Legal Software for licensing his credit math program. We would also like to thank Amy Marshall Mix for contributions to the analysis of electronic disclosures, Mary Kingsley for legal research; and the following attorneys who contributed to the analysis or submitted sample pleadings for use in this volume: Alan White, Diane Thompson, Irv Ackelsberg, Irwin Trauss, and Joanne Faulkner.

This Fifth Edition builds on the earlier editions, and the list of those who have contributed over the past seventeen years to the first four editions and supplements is long indeed. We would like to recognize in particular Ernest L. Sarason, Jr., formerly of NCLC, and currently Managing Attorney of the Trial Division of the Office of the Attorney General of Massachusetts. Just a few of the others who worked on prior editions include Robert Sable, Charles Baird, Tom Domonoske, David Searles, Dmitry Feofanov, The Honorable Bruce Fox, John Roddy, Richard Rubin, and Gerry Azzata.
